Lions Club Governor

Makes Official Visit To Local Club

The Belle Glade Lions Club has the deep pleasure of having District Governor, Ross Witter, of Miami, as a guest, on his annual club visitation along with Deputy District Governor, Fred Owens, of Riviera; and Zone Leader, Lloyd Kelley, of Jewison, Howell Watkins of the county school system and Board Member Carmine Salvatore were also guests of honor. The membership were surprised to see white linen cloths on the table, and all were puzzled at the invitation, which was from an athletic center for sitting or to give Talliwater. After an opportunity to collect time for selling the lion. Governor Witter spoke briefly, stating that Lionism in the district is progressing with 208 more members on the roll than last August and six new clubs in the Miami section. He complimented the Glades district clubs, in that three of the four stood at the head of the class in attendance.

The state clubs are to mass in Jacksonville next July, for a motorcade to the national convention in Chicago, and to visit the new Lion City being established in that city by International Lionism.

Phil O'Connell Again Elected League President

Phil O'Connell, states attorney of West Palm Beach, who served the International Baseball League as its president, last year, and did a mighty fine job of it, at the annual meeting of the League in Miami, last Sunday, was re-elected to that position, with a salary of $5,000, and secretarial allowance. The League will again play a 154 game schedule winding up at Lord Day.

New Motor Policeman

Audrey Corbett is a new member of the city police force, and has been assigned to motor inspection work. Officer Congalton has been returned to regular duty. The underpinning in the office of the Chief of Police Charles Reddy was found destroyed by termites and rot, requiring the placement of new sills and floor.

Highwaymen Hold Up Truck And Rob Driver

A bold piece of highway robbery took place near Twenty Mile Bridge Tuesday morning, when two men in a car crowded a tobacco supply truck off the road and held up and robbed the driver, Robert S. Shaw, of $120 in company funds and $60 of his own. The men under gun made Shaw climb down to a ditch while they made their escape. Shaw immediately reported the holdup to the sheriff's office. Shaw was a driver for the Brown and Williamson Corporation of Louisville, Ky.

Plans Announced For Annual Christmas Seal Sale Drive

Preparation for the 43rd annual Christmas Seal Sale is well under way at the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association, according to Mrs. C. Raymond Durkee, County Seal Sale Chairman. 233 different individuals representing 14 churches and organizations have helped thus far in preparing the approximately 30,000 Christmas Seal letters which will be in the mail November 21. The drive will last until Christmas. Mrs. Durkee praised the excellent work of many volunteers who are under the supervision of Mrs. R. K. McEwen, Mail Sale Chairman.

Mrs. R. K. McEwen said the speakers Bureau for the drive. Besides the football bus, there was also a bus for the pep club members and the student body. The bus was packed, but despite the crowded conditions, everyone had a swell time. Real school spirit was shown by the students at the game. Our yell rang out.

Mr. Lake Lyral, President of the Tuberculosis Association, pointed out that the proceeds of the Christmas Seal Sale is the sole income of the Association and that 95 percent of all funds raised remain in the State with 5 percent going to the National Association for medical research, etc.

Mrs. R. K. McEwen said that many more volunteers will be needed to complete all preparation of the mail sale and urged those persons who are interested and can spare some time to call 21733 or come to the Association office at 308 Cornua Building.

Prison Escapes Given Additional Sentences By Court

Willie Sparks and Herman Miller, who escaped from the State Prison farm last month, and later picked up by the law officers, arranged in criminal court before Judge Newman Tuesday, drew an additional year to their original sentence. Miller was serving a 20 year sentence from Duval county for armed robbery and Sparks for 20 years for murder in Glades county.

Charles Green confessed the robbery of the Rambler Cafe in Belle Glade, but sentence was postponed until their FBI reports arrive from Washington.

Glades County School Officials Look Over Local School Houses

A number of prominent citizens and members of the Glades County Board of Public Education, made a visit to Belle Glade for the purpose of inspecting the new high school annex and the colored elementary school, both as to adaptability, architecture and construction. They returned home very highly pleased and with the possibility that the same plans might be used in the proposed new school building to be erected in Moore Haven.

Principal Frank O. Hobson informed the visitors that new buildings were proving more than satisfactory in every detail, and that the teachers and pupils alike were enthusiastic over them.

County Names New Deputy Health Officer

The County Board of Commissioners, on Tuesday, named Dr. Clarence R. Rogers to the post of Assistant County Health director, to take the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. J. C. Canakana, who goes to work for the State Board of Health. Rogers is a graduate of the University of Florida and Temple Medical schools, and has been a member of the staff at Good Samaritan Hospital. The Board as yet has selected no successor to Dr. Burton Austin as head of the Health Department.

Freight And Passenger Office Opened Here For Additional Service

The growth of the Glades has had the "smart guys" of the telephone, power company, city planners, railroads and other progressions "stunned" for sometime because "it ain't so" when they're being informed of the growth.

Gradually these experts have been converted especially when they've had to revise upwards their preparation for service to the Glades.

Among the last to "fall" are the railroads as indicated by the establishment of an office with a manager and telephone for the convenience of both freight and passenger clients from Mayaca to Lake Harbor, by the Atlantic Coast Line.

Penalized For Non-observance Of Child Labor Law

Failure to comply with provisions of Florida's Child Labor Law cost the Chelsea Corporation $974.42 last week, according to a report from the Florida Industrial Commission. With headquarters in Chicago, the company was engaged in construction activities on the Keys in Monroe County.

Although covered by Workmen's Compensation Insurance which paid medical, hospital, and compensation for the serious eye injury to a 17 year old employee, the company was allowed $10,890 above that paid by the carrier because it did not have a work permit for this youth on file at the time of the accident.

The Workmen's Compensation Law provides that when illegally employed minors are injured benefits are doubled, with the employer and not the insurance carrier responsible for the additional payment.

Double compensation, however, will do little to mitigate the loss of 33 percent vision in one eye caused when an eight penny nail flew in and struck the minor in the left eye.

In commenting on the case Chairman Raymond E. Barnes of the Florida Industrial Commission pointed out that all youth under 18 years of age, except minors engaged in domestic service in private homes and farm work during the hours when public schools are not in session are required to have proper work certificates.

Chairman Barnes said "There were 874 accidents involving minors legally employed in Florida last year costing employers over $10,890 above that paid by the carrier because it did not have a work permit for this youth on file at the time of the accident."

The Commission will continue to use every possible media to advise employers of the Child Labor regulations, Barnes added.

Employers desiring information on the Child Labor Law may write directly to the Florida Industrial Commission or see the local Superintendent of Public Instruction through whose office the certificates are issued.

Consumers' Problems

By Mrs. Orie D. Lee
Mrs. Lee has discussed this problem at Tuskegee Institute, Hampton Institute, and Miami University, Ohio.

In recent years the consumer movement has found fine cooperation from women, especially in moderate and professional circles. It is alarming to note that in spite of the low cost of the services offered by Consumers' Union, the low income group which needs the services most have not accepted it. The Consumer Movement has seen much growth between 1939 and 1949.

In 1939 there were twenty-eight consumer organizations apart from other groups financed by outside groups. There were ten consumer periodicals and many books dealing with consumer problems. A number of them were "Consumer Movement" by W. K. Gable, "The Consumer Movement" by K. Dameron; and many others.

Considering the activities and the general outlook, the status of the movement can be thought of in terms of the number of participants and types of organizations contributing.

In spite of the fine work done by the foregoing group, writers, and organizations, there has come on the scene a group of self-styled organizations that are "wolves in lambs clothing." They prepare material for study groups to be used in general meetings and club groups. It seems to sound a note in behalf of the producer instead of the consumer. This problem of the consumer can be met by investigating the organizations circulating such material. The best to be done through an organized group of consumers or other professional groups.

Many of the consumers' problems are being solved by such agencies as the Better Business Bureau, National Consumers' Retailer Council, Business-Consumer Conference on Advertising and Selling Practices, and a new others. They suggest as a solution to consumer problems a receptive attitude toward experimentation, a desire to encourage inventiveness, a friendly attitude towards new ideas and institutions, and a critical approach to new proposals. (C. E. Merriam, Civic Education in the United States, Part VI.)

In order that the consumer movement will continue to live and grow, Reid suggests the following: (1) A belief in freedom and democratic control which in its essence abhors exploitation and special privileges. (2) A belief that the welfare of each member of society should receive balanced consideration in state policy. (3) A belief that more than any other one seems to give meaning to our political order—explains our political consumer education. (3) The emergence from under cover during 1929 of lobbying by pressure groups within the parent need of organizations to present the consumer interest.

The Bobcats defeated Stargate Training School 81-0. This game was sensational. The Bobcats' roster could hardly remain in their seats because of various reasons.

Grade and information each play important role in the consumer to decide the best product for the price. The consumer may find more satisfaction by selecting according to grade, especially if grades are standardized by the bureau.

The informative label is more inclined to help the manufacturer, yet, when such agencies as National Bureau of Standards, National Consumers' Retailer Council, American Standards Association, Consumer Testing Agency, National Board of Fire Underwriters, National Association of Home Economists, and Trade Bureau continue to give consumer information regarding each brand item.

The cereal foods as a class are among the most important, valuable for their ability, economy, ease of digestion, and bland flavor. Since they can be eaten freely by all, they are also an important source of protein although it is not such quantity as to permit their being relied upon as the sole source. When those products are selected which include the cereal foods, including bread, may make important contribution to the diet (especially iron) and also the Vitamin B content. Florida Gets Fish From Salt Waters For Million $ Tubs Florida's $35 million annual commercial fish catch needs future supply, according to the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

The research division of the State Chamber, in its weekly business review, reported that the total 1948 catch was valued at the docks at $35,000,000. Principal items making up the total were shrimp $8,487,000; mullet $1,134,000; blue crab $6,335,000; mackerel $2,115,000; snapper $1,494,000; sea trout $1,248,000; grouper $1,042,000; Florida lobster $1,018,000; oysters $333,000; pompano $495,000 and cut fish $458,000. The menhaden catch sold for $1,758,000 and shark for $450,000. Sponges were valued at $332,000.

A comparison of last year's catch, in quantities rather than dollars, with the average for the years 1943 through 1947, is revealing. The shrimp catch was up about five million pounds from the average, blue as if he would be taking a regular berth on the team the pounds and sea trout by one million pounds. The menhaden catch which usually varies from year to year, was twelve million pounds more last year than the five-year average.

The mullet catch in 1948 was less than the average by four million pounds and was twenty million pounds under the catch in 1943. Last year's mackerel haul was less than during any one of the five years and off four million pounds and the oyster catch was only a fraction of what it was ten years ago.

Billy Jo Leathers Plays Good Football For Rollins College

Billy Jo Leathers, for several years an ace football player on the Golden Rams, this year is a member of the Rollins Varsity team, got into his first collegiate game against Newberry college, a game won by his team. Billy Jo was accredited with playing a star game, repeatedly breaking through the line to stop offensive plays, and also materially assisting Rollins on its offensive work. It looks as if he would be taking a regular berth on the team the

Biography of Mr. and Mrs. Charles X. Henry
Mr. and Mrs. Charles X. Henry, the former, Mrs. Mary Calhoun, are Floridians by adoption. They are both natives of Pennsylvania. Both attended the public schools of that state, and after completion of school in Greensburg, Pennsylvania, Mr. Henry became engaged in the bakery business and remained in this type of work all of his adult life.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry lived in Fort Lauderdale four years before coming to Belle Glade last May. Although they are practically new-comers here, they have already become an integral part of this community's social and business life. They have only high praise for Belle Glade citizens and have manifested their faith in the growth of this area by establishing Belle Glade Bakery on Avenue "A" last August 16.
Belle Glade Bakery carries a full line of all kinds of pastries, including Danish and French; bread, including pumpkin and salt rising; and cakes for all occasions. They fill special orders for weddings and parties.
Fraternally, Mr. Henry is a member of the Elks Lodge. Mrs. Henry attends the Catholic Church.
One of their two sons lives in New York. While their sports interests center in baseball and football, their mutual hobby is fishing. Mr. Henry also likes to play bridge.

 Several concerns are looking forward to the marketing of entirely new types of wheat the coming year.

Wheat is one of the best and largest farm crops raised in the United States, and to us many of the nations look for a good portion of their grain for food supplies. One of the largest wheat plantations in the world is located at Hardin, Montana, consisting of 85,000 acres owned by Campbell's Farms. The U. S.

Wheat Corporation just recently took an option of purchase of the ranch for $2,000,000.

The City Commission is to be congratulated for the prompt and business like manner, in which it took to secure ownership of the old colored school property, for city uses. That deal now being in the bag, it will be up to the users of the proposed location, to come on slip up can occur on the financial arrangements between the city and the school board.

Located in the heart of the colored settlement, where most of our reasonable labor resides it will constitute a central loading center. Regulations of loading will clear up some of the past muddles that have prevailed, some of them harmful.

Commissioner Harris, an insurance man, has warned the other Board members, that they will need be more strict in granting permits, for it is the existence of, old worn down and dilapidated buildings is what keeps up insurance rates in the city.

You can just place a bet that the Armistice Day jambores here on November 11, sponsored by the American Legion Post, is going to be a whooper, as well as interesting with many features of the proposed parade. Senator Spessard Holland is to be the guest speaker of the day. Meat contests for the big barbecue are assured so that there will be plenty of delicious beef and hog on hand for the hungry mob. Band music will be one of the big attractions.

Phokete Methodist had a large and joyous homecoming gathering, with Rev. Strathman, a former pastor, delivering the day's message. Boy, what abundant eats, those methodists did provide for the occasion!

In the years past that tourists have been coming to Florida, all they had to do was to enjoy our balmy climate and entertainment facilities. This and coming seasons is going to be another matter, for after November 1st, they, like the natives, will have to pay a sales tax on rooming and living committees, thus adding the state opt in its taxing problems. People who can afford to come to Florida for the season, can also afford to add in bearing some of the financial operations of government of the state. Many of the states in the north have or have had this sales tax program, so they will be used to it, and will not make so much howl about it. The new tax will hit the rich and poor alike.

Civic clubs in Belle Glade and Pahokee are now sporting weekly bulletins, which are proving interesting and profitable to the membership.

As one drives by the garage of the Everglades Fire Control and sees all these trucks all painted up in the customary red and in spick and span condition for the coming season's work, it recalls the early days when the department had but a scant amount of equipment. Careful management and financing has made it possible to build up the present standable fire fighting equipment, here and at the other sub-stations in the district. Each year this department prevents loss of thousands of dollars to property owners. Its value and usefulness is unquestioned.

The Florida Wildlife magazine in October issue has a long story of interest entitled "Florida's Armored Invasion" treats on the Mexican armadillo, which is appearing in ever increasing number on the ocean and central portion of state areas. Scientists who have made a study of his family life, relate that many bad stories about this strange armored animal are pure canards and undeserving. The story relates that they are not predators against wild bird life, nor to roots of growing crops, but are helpful in killing off numerous destructive bugs and insects. His meat is a delicacy for any one's table. The armadillo is a shy kind of animal and likes to live his life away in the wilds, mostly along lakes or streams. He has a shell armor, which he can close as tight as a porcupine in his needed armor. His presence can be determined by the many ear marks which he makes in the sand or soft soil.

There does not seem to be any reason why any motorist should make a speedway on the short streets connecting East Avenue E and the Palm Beach road a speedway. Such an incident recently occurred, resulting in the killing of a police dog. The driver never stopped but high tailed on along down the road. Not many kindnesses or animal humanity in that kind of a deal.

Thanksgiving turkey is going down to or under the sixty cents a pound price. That will be good news to the American housewife. The turkey crop is the largest on record. Chickens never more plentiful.

Looks pretty good to see activity over in the packing house sector, for from these houses, are cleared the products, which mean bread and butter for our farmers and other citizens. Business over there means business all over town.

Ninety years ago, the first commercial oil well was drilled in at Titusville, Penna., by Col. Edward Drake, a wildcat operator. He got the precious black gold fluid at the depth of 69 feet. This began the great exploring program for oil in the state and adjoining states, which has expanded all over the world. Oil is the life of commerce and civilization. Prosperity depends upon it. Oil Corporations have spent billions in the opening new fields, erecting process plants, research in oil product techniques, and making it possible for all type of petroleum products to be manufactured and placed on the market for a season profit price.

Army Engineers Get Fine Big Appropriation For Its Big Projects

Congress has appropriated $35,425,180 for the Civil Works operations of the Corps of Engineers in the fiscal year 1950 according to an announcement received by Colonel Richard W. Pearson of the Army Engineers, in Jacksonville.

The funds included in the department of the Army Civil Functions Appropriation Bill designed by the President on 13 October permits post war acceleration of the federal program to improve the nation's rivers and harbors and provide greater protection from floods. The 1950 fiscal year appropriation is about $20,000,000 more than the appropriation for the past fiscal year, Colonel Pearson said.

Funds to be allotted to the Jacksonville District include central and southern Florida project for flood control and water conservation, $1,500,000; Okeechobee waterway, $3,100,000; construction of Dams Point to Pulton Cut-off, St. Johns River, $900,000; Tampa Harbor, $500,000; and New River, $10,000, which will be used for advanced planning work.

Legion At Okeechobee To Dedicate New Home With Rodeo Attraction

The American Legion, at Okeechobee is planning a big rodeo and barbecue occasion for Armistice Day, November 11th, at which time the Post's new home will be fittingly dedicated.

Notice has been posted that any Okeechobee citizen who fails to appear in cowboy garb, will be placed in "hock" for two hours, to make him remember that he is a cowboy. From the noon day barbecue the Post hopes to gain sufficient cash to at least partially pay off its new home debt.

Greyhound Offers All-Expense Trips For Tourist Trade

"The mellow fall season, with its colorful foliage and cooler, zesty weather, is practically perfect for all kinds of pleasure trips," said Mr. T. B. O'Steen, Traffic Manager of Florida Greyhound Lines. At a recent meeting of Greyhound ticket agents, Mr. O'Steen also pointed out that more and more people are becoming aware of the wide variety of trips that are especially enjoyable in the fall months.

"People have done so much of their traveling for so long in the summer months that they have completely missed the many distinct advantages of travel during the colorful fall season," Mr. O'Steen said. He added that when people were once made aware of the increased pleasure of such things as cooler weather for traveling, a much wider choice of hotel and resort accommodations, plus the more colorful scenic beauty in the fall, they would discover the autumn months to be a particularly enticing travel season.

Mr. O'Steen also emphasized that people have not yet realized the many varied places to go and exciting things to do in the fall—like seeing a big-time football game, going back home to visit the old folks, going on a hunting or fishing trip, taking the family to a Fair, having a gay time in the big city—or even taking a second honeymoon trip.

Mr. O'Steen then went on to say that this fall Greyhound has made special plans to provide maximum of service to take care of the expected increase in fall travel. "In this respect," Mr. O'Steen stated, "Greyhound is extending many of its Expense-Paid Tours into the months of October, November and December. Charter buses are being made available for group trips to the big games, for camera club excursions and other group activities." Emphasis was placed on the fact that Greyhound is gearing its entire nationwide facilities in every way to serve travelers who prefer fall for the most of their travel enjoyment. "The fact is," Mr. O'Steen concluded, "that within the entire nationwide Greyhound organization, we are making a major effort to promote the idea that fall is indeed the ideal time to take a trip."

Best Fishing Of Season Now Reported By 'Slim' Corbin

A lot of fishing was done on Lake Okechobee and Fishing Creek waters, over the past week end, and most of the parties came into land with very satisfactory fishing returns. Marshall Infanger brought a 7 pound bass in for the Parrish and Davis contest, which looks good for the October award.

W. S. Scoggins, of the Western Auto Store, brought in the prize fish, Sunday, at Slim's camp, which weighed 8 pounds, six ounces. Along with six others weighing from 2 to 4½ pounds. The big fish was not eligible for contest entry. Scoggins caught this bass on a crippled minnow bait over on the "pass" after a stiff fight in which every bass trick was employed to escape the bait.

"Slim" states that the fishing on the lake at present is the best of the season. Most of the fishing is being done on the channel pass west of Kramer Island and in Pelican Bay. Corbin had about got his camp established from the hurricane damage, has recovered most of his boats, and all the motors which were swept off his pier.

Belle Glade Machine Works

Few, if any, machine shops have attained the prominence in this section of the country that is awarded Belle Glade Machine Works. Maintaining an up-to-date service for the accommodation of the public, this progressive firm has an enviable record for fair prices and good service. Insisting that everything about the place be in accordance with the most modern scientific ideas regarding machinery, Belle Glade Machine Works has not seen fit to take advantage of the general tendency to raise prices, yet on the other hand has been most moderate in their charges. They have built up their trade by reason of their straight business methods and their very accommodating services. Mr. D. C. DeHaven and his associates are progressive men of the community who have always favored the reports that there are already many wild duck of every type on the lake, and indications are very favorable for a good duck season.

Welcoming Strangers To Belle Glade Is An Organized Program

If you've recently moved to Belle Glade, or if you've just set up, house-keeping with the "only," or maybe if you've just welcomed the "bundle of joy" then you should be officially welcomed by the Hostess, Mrs. Joe Freedlund.

A dozen or more merchants of the community have enlisted the aid of the Welcome Wagon, a national organization, with Mrs. Joe Freedlund as official hostess who calls on newcomers, as described, with valuable prizes. If you know of a newcomer or a person in the category as listed above you'll do your community a favor by notifying Mrs. Freedlund. She will call with the welcome hand trying to make the recipient feel more at home.

Sents from the merchants. Mrs. Freedlund comes with full information about the schools, clubs, religious and fraternal organizations as well as other data that may help you to make yourself a local citizen or sojourner with the least effort.

the story, as told by National Guard soldiers.

The abundant supply of fine looking and tasty cakes brought all out patronage to the cake walk stand. Most everyone went round the rounds with a cake, a hot dog or hamburger, a sack of pop-corn, or an all day sucker in their hands and many a kid had a toy from the Lion Club stand.

With no disparaging reflection on the other attractions, yet, the money making stand was the Dutch auction, pictures by the Elks club, with Mayor Harold Rabin as supervisor, and A. E. McCabe the hard worked auctioneer.

The articles sold consisted of two large turkeys donated by Mrs. Roscoe Braddock; pictures by Mrs. Henry Barwood and Mrs. Ray Whitlock; lamps, by the Collins Furniture company and Bettmers, glassware, by the Glades Appliance Corporation; cow boy shirt by "Spider" Lind; and a steer call by "Doc" VanLandingham. Turkeys came high at $100 and $300; the call $97.00, the total sale of the evening amounting to $663.75.

Some of the money boys got into cliques and did a lot of bidding against each other, which caused a lot of merriment for the crowd, and a hoarse voice for McCabe.

One of the features was the parade of 1950 models of automobiles, Buick, Ford, Chevrolet, the Willy's Jeepster, and station wagon, and a Ford tractor driven by Jimmy Chambliss.

Over the publicity system of sided by Tom Watson and D. B. Mathis, the PTA, took occasion to extend thanks and appreciation to all who had taken a part in the successful party.

The financial take will give the PTA a sizeable treasury from which to carry on its school activities of a varied nature, during balance of the school year. Some of the funds will be spent to purchase added equipment for the cafeteria and other school departments.

The dozen or more judges had quite a time to select the prize winners from the various individual and group contestants, but finally announced the list as follows:

Pre-school group, first, Mary Bracken; second, Martin Bush; third, Billy Torrence.

First and second grade group, first, Evelyn Purmes; second, Sam Ellen Boone; third, Kenneth Keith.

Third and fourth grade group, first, Billy Tom Fares; second, Linda Gale Mobley; third, Chas. Laiz.

Fifth and sixth grade group, first, Karen Allison; second, Charles Royal; third, Gwendolyn Hughes.

Junior high, first, Harry McDonald; second, Nancy Ball; third, Paul and Johnnie Miller.

The winners were grouped on the field, with Mayor Harold Rabin, acting as the shepherd, for a picture taken by photographer Dixon.

EVENTFUL LIFE

personality and mental makeup, but to those who really got to know him, found in him a man of much mental ability and stability possessing a kind heart.

Judge Hubbell was born in Oregon, where he spent his boyhood days around Salem, in the Portland territory. He attended school and prepared himself for a career in law.

He held a position of official trust. Later, he drifted to San Francisco where he followed a number of callings, one position being in the advertising department of the Hearst Herald. Later he became a confidential agent for the Fellowship Forum, of Washington, D. C., traveling over many of the states as assignments; and first contacted Florida on such a trip.

He liked Florida and settled at Miami, where he got mixed up in the Florida real estate boom, later operated at Ft. Lauderdale and finally landed in Belle Glade, where his history as a man, an official and citizen are of known record.

Judge Hubbell loved and respected his nation, and called its lands, and especially that of the Glades, as "Paradise," and used that word repeatedly in his writings and advertisements.

On taxation matters he was a devotee of the Henry George system, and on Health matters, and he was strictly a vegetarian, and to that he held his fine physical condition. He was a lover of the Persian poet and philosopher Omar Kayhan, and often used his name in connection with his own name.

Among his papers will be found a number of plans for modern low cost house buildings, which he had patented, and under which he had hoped to soon develop his acreage west of his home.

For many years he conducted a matrimonial agency in his "hole in the wall" office, and he married many hundreds of couples, both white and colored.

Judge Hubbell was a widower, his wife having died here several years ago. His only survivor is a son who is a business man in San Francisco, Calif. He held fellowship with no church or fraternal groups, but got his greatest pleasure out of life out of friends, his books, magazines and his dreams, especially the latter. From his life's activities he had accumulated a sizeable competency.

Funeral services were held at the Berry Funeral Home in Palm Beach, Thursday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Hoke Smith, of the Baptist Church, and interment was made in Hillcrest cemetery. Information from Los Angeles from the son, was to the effect that he would be unable to come east for his father's funeral, but expected to come soon to look after estate matters.

When you talk about VALVE-IN-HEAD you're talking about

The Power that made Buick Famous

If you want to know what "the newest thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-in-head."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-in-head engine was invented back in 1902—A. S. Duesenberg, No. 771095—and immediately Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the idea—then. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more freely—gets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easily—others hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel—and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valve-in-head principle.

And more recently—with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available—a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-in-headquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember, when you hear the term "valve-in-head," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them"—and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And—we might add—it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them
